I am extremely happy, to see Manipal Journal of Nursing and Health Sciences giving lot of inputs for nursing education and research. I congratulate all the authors, who have contributed excellent original articles, review papers, and case reports. I am sure the editorial board and authors will take care to avoid any plagiarism and research fraud. The editorial board has to strive for good quality of research papers published in this journal. I am sure the journal will also see to it that, all the advancements in the Nursing and Health Sciences will be taken into consideration, while continuing the publication of the journal.

Manipal Journal of Nursing and Health Sciences has eminent editorial advisory body members under their leadership. Various original articles are selected and published in the journal. I am happy to see that the papers on Clinical Skills, Clinical Intervention, Dietary Practices, Critical Care, Maternal Care, Holistic Nursing Care, and Immunization of the Child, etc. are elaborately addressed and published. Through these papers, we can understand that a great depth of knowledge and research activity has been conducted.

I am also happy, to see that the journal is also bringing out public health reviews and subjects like human obesity. It is worth noting that excellent case reports are also presented in this journal. I wish all the best to Manipal Journal of Nursing and Health Sciences.

Thanking you,

With regards
