ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

At the outset, I would like to extend my thanks to the Manipal College of Health Professions and the Department of Clinical Psychology, for providing me with the academic environment within which I was able to conceptualize and conduct this research project. I would also like to extend my gratitude to Dr G. Arun Maiya (Dean, Manipal College of Health Professions) and Dr Sebastian Padickaparambil (Head of Department, Department of Clinical Psychology, Manipal College of Health Professions) for laying down the framework within which I could formulate and conduct my work.

I would like to thank my dissertation guide, Dr Kavyashree K. B., Assistant Professor, Department of Clinical Psychology, Manipal College of Health Professions, and Dr Raghavendra Rao, Professor, Department of Dermatology, Kasturba Medical College for being the supervisors of this project.

I would also like to place on record an immense amount of gratitude for Dr Shweta Rai (Associate Professor, Department of Clinical Psychology, Manipal College of Health Professions) and Dr Sahithya B. R. (Assistant Professor, Department of Clinical Psychology, Manipal College of Health Professions) for their expert insights and inputs which helped me determine the direction of the research project at various points through its course, Thanks must also be said to Ms Shubharekha (St. Agnes College, Mangalore) for her contribution to the calculation of the sample size for the study, and also aiding the ideation of the study design.

I want to thank Ms Anagha Deshmukh (Assistant Professor, Department of Clinical Psychology, Manipal College of Health Professions) and Ms Vasudha K. G. (Assistant Professor, Kasturba Medical College – Mangalore) for taking time out of their busy schedules to validate the personal interview schedule used in the second phase study. Their rigorous and nuanced critique allowed the interview schedule to be fine-tuned to elicit rich and elaborate experiences.

I also extend my gratitude to the senior residents (Dr Krutika Vohra, Dr Akshat Reddy, Dr Sujitha Reddy, Dr A. S. A. Nivalika, and Dr Deepti Jaiswal), junior residents (Dr Ina Aggarwal, Dr Parul Gemani, Dr Priya, Dr Poornima Gupta, Dr Supriya Reddy) as well as the administrative and nursing staff at the Department of Dermatology, Kasturba Medical College. Without their constant support to locate the patients appropriate for the study. Thank you for taking a personal interest in my study and helping facilitate the collection of data.

Although I cannot mention them by name, my sincere thanks go out to the participants of my study. Each of the participants had a unique narrative, and the study is richer because each of their stories.

On a personal note, I want to place on record that no amount of thanks will be enough for my incredibly supportive parents, Ms Sudha Shashikanth and Mr Shashikanth Kodancha, who taught me how to live with a visible difference and to turn it into a strength.
